To start, you will not be able to create any of the 5 traps available in the game. Fear not! These traps can be learned after you've made your character through magazines! If you don't want to go through the effort of finding these magazines to arrest, there are a few character customization options that you can do to arrest from the beginning. The profession Park Ranger starts the game knowing how to make all 5 trap recipes. There are also two different traits that you can take to get a head start in your hunting career. These are:Hiker: You start the game with an extra skill point in the Trapping ability. You will also get to know the craft recipes for the Wooden Box Trap, the Snare Trap and the Stick Trap. Hunter: With the hunter feature, you will start with an extra point in the Trap and you will also know how to make all the traps in the game.If you plan to live in the desert at Project Zomboid, it's important to at least get one of them, as they will do foraging food through foraging and also trapping much easier. If you started the game without these, you can look at the series of magazines called The Hunter Magazine. There are three magazines in this series and by reading them you will unlock the ability to create traps. The craft recipes that you can unlock through these magazines are as follows:MagazineRecipe LearnThe Hunter Magazine Vol.1.Snare TrapThe Hunter Magazine Vol.2.Stick Trap, TrapThe Hunter Magazine Vol.3.Trap Box, Trap CageThe Hunter Magazines will teach you how to create trapsYou can find Random them anywhere where you find books on Project Zomboid. For example, in bookstores, on bookshelves in homes, and on magazine shelves at gas stations. How to Trap in Project ZomboidTrapping is a relatively simple mechanic in Project Zomboid. Once you have one of the game traps acquired through withdrawals Crafts, you can use it to capture animals. There are a variety of traps you can get in the Zomboid project, as I will pass below. After having acquired one of these Everything you need to do is click on the right mouse button in a chonus in the chonus that can be used to put a trap. Through the action menu, you see another suspended menu entitled Place Trap. Pass the mouse about this and you will see a list of all the traps you have. Select one of these and you can choose to put the trap wherever you want. ĂĂ Colocating a trap on the ChĂĂ o   Made through the Action menu Ă ovochan   able to put traps of your character Ă ĂeS invention, or any traps that are located in a bag or backpack, well. Now that you have a trap in the ChĂĂ o, everything you have to do is add some food like bait and wait for the trap to take an animal! Adding bait to a trap once you put one Trap in the ChĂĂ o, you will have to add bait to the trap to capture anything! You can use any type of food to capture animals in traps. There are certain types of foods that attract different animals. I will talk about this in the section animals captured in traps. To add bait to a trap, just make sure you have some food in your invention. Note that it is not possible to add food spoiled to an animal trap. Place the trap on the chĂĂ e o Using the above instruction. Now click on the right mouse buttons in the trap and mouse over the option to add bait. This will open a suspended menu where you can select a food to add to trap. Choose a food and your character will move to the trap and add the bait. What animals can you get with traps? I will keep it short and sweet. There are 5 different types of animals that you can take through the current traps it is currently the zomboid project. I will make a list of these 5 animals below in a table and what you can get from them. In addition to the information below, be aware that the rabbit and the so a special condition to catch them.
